ROAD SCHOLAR OFFERS EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS ACROSS THE COUNTRY THAT EXPLORE THE LEADERSHIP SKILLS, POLICIES AND LIVES OF AMERICAN PRESIDENTS, PAST AND PRESENT

BOSTON (February 14, 2014) — Presidents Day is an excellent opportunity for Americans to reflect upon the lives and contributions of the 43 men who've held the exalted office. Over the next few months, Road Scholar will offer educational programs that will examine the lives of America's most popular Presidents. These exceptional programs include explorations of historic sites such as Mount Rushmore, presidential libraries, state capitols and the stately homes of many of our nation's presidents.

Past Presidents Programs

Early American Presidents, Island and Politics, and Amish in America

Participants will take an academic look at early presidents, examine the history, culture and modern influences of Islam, and learn about the Amish in America.
